The Advertiser's War Bulletin Service

The Advertiser is determined to challenge attention and make its position unsalable as the most progressive and the best weekly in this district and in order to give the best news service, the Advertiser has secured a Special Bulletin Service through the courtesy of The Calgary News-Telegram with its un-equalled news resources. Promptly upon the receipt of important news happenings, the Advertiser will bulletin same in its windows. In this way, we are able to bridge over the great gap which lies between the night news which is received here at 10 a.m. in the morning papers and the arrival of the News-Telegram at 10 p.m. Thus we gave last night news which did not come by the outside paper route until 10 this morning and at noon to-day, news which does not reach us in the dailies until 10 tonight. To be up-to-date, be a subscriber to the Advertiser.

Six Boys Leave for Front

A message was received by the local authorities on Saturday afternoon instructing them to call for volunteers for the first Canadian contingent and allowing a quota of six from this district. Among the first to respond to the call were W. D. Muir who was with the 23rd Alberta Rangers for three years, E. T. Gray who had seen service in the South Irish Horse, Wm. Pritchard who carries honorable scars from active service in the Boer War, Sam O. Bryan who was in active service in South Africa, G. W. Cummins formerly of the Royal Field Artillery and Leslie K. Franklin, a lieutenant in the 23rd Alberta Rangers. Sixty would have gone but six was all the department would allow. These passed their preliminary medical examination and prepared to leave for Edmonton on Sunday.

Preparations were hurriedly made for the bidding of a mass meeting of the citizens on Saturday evening to bid the boys good-bye. At 10 p.m., the meeting began in the local opera house. Mayor Holmes was the chairman. With him on the platform were the six who were to leave for the front, the Claresholm band and representative citizens. Insp. Tucker, R.N.W.M.F., C. W. James, of the Alberta Rangers, ex-Capt. C. J. Braren, Revs. McNiel and Harrison, Principal Stephen of the Claresholm School of Agriculture, Councillor Blais, J. R. Watt and the editor of this paper. Short speeches were delivered which found an enthusiastic response from the audience whose patriotism was stirred by circumstances surrounding the gathering.

For the first time Claresholm was farewelling her boys who were ordered to the front. For the first time in the history of the town, war was brought home to her. The motherland was engaged in a titanic struggle for the welfare of the world and Claresholm boys were going to her assistance. The speeches carried the fervid tone and applause was hearty and frequent. Canadians held their emotions in peace time and are often accused of a lack of loyalty but with the nation in peril, the true Canadian spirit is not slow in manifesting itself.

"Britain" furnished the text of the remarks of J. R. Watt and H. Duncan and to name Britain was enough to call forth bursts of cheering.

The audience rose in a body and sang patriotic airs and the band helped out with martial music. Canada was the toast of Rev. Harrison and Principal Stephen and Councillor Blais responded. Canada, a nation within a nation was the definition of Principal Stephen and as a heartfelt within a heart Canada responds to the call of the mother. "Our Boys" was fittingly proposed by Capt. Braren and responded to by Rev. McNiel. In the former's address he spoke with pride of his great grandfather who was Commodore Knutsen of the British navy. Rev. McNiel spoke of the clean lives of the young men who were going to represent Claresholm and emphasized the fact that the greatest obligation rested upon the young men upon whom in times of stress the country must depend to keep themselves clean and strong and pure that they be not found wanting when

Burglars Steal Revolvers

Taking advantage of the shutdown of the electric light plant and the heavy rain, burglars entered the store of W. M. Ross on Sunday night and carried away war supplies. They obtained entrance by forcing the rear window in the form. From the showcases were taken one Savage automatic, 32 calibre, one Ives-Johnson revolver 38 calibre, with ammunition for each and two safety razors. Nothing else seems to be missing and no attempt was made upon the safe. The job looks somewhat amateurish.

Ottawa, Aug. 12th, 1914.

To Major C. W. James, Commanding "A" Squadron 23rd Alberta Rangers, Claresholm, Alta.

In view of non-completion of medical examinations in many places, volunteering need not be closed until orders for mobilization at Valcartier, Que., are issued.

Commanding officers will assemble all volunteers for overseas expeditionary force at local corps headquarters for instructional purposes from this date. Pay and subsistence allowance will be allowed at authorized military rates.

Issue necessary instructions and acknowledge receipt. Adjutant-General

Joseph Chamberlain and The Liquor Question

The recent passing on of Right Honorable Joseph Chamberlain, one of England's greatest statesmen, recalls to mind some of his notable utterances on the liquor problem. Speaking in Birmingham in 1876 he said: "Temperance reform lies at the bottom of all further political and religious reform. The enemies of strong drink are the friends of mankind."

In 1876, in the Fortnightly Review, he said: "The continued spread of intemperance is the most important single cause of the misery and suffering still rife in our midst, and there are few who would not gain the assertion of Mr. Colver, made many years back, that 'the temperance cause lies at the foundation of all social and political reform. This fact has indeed become apparent to those engaged in any kind of public, religious or philanthropic work, that earnest men find it impossible to rest and be thankful, and even professional optimists confess the hopelessness of repose while this hateful pest is present to disturb the tenor of complacent dreams.'"

In regard to the popular desire for strong drink, he said: "If I could destroy the desire for strong drink in the people of England, what changes we should see. We should see our taxes reduced by millions sterling, our goals and warehouses empty, and more lives saved in one year than are consumed in a century of bitter and savage war."

Farmer's Elevators' Successful Year

The annual meeting of the Alta Farmers' Co-Operative Elevator Co., Clareholm "local", was held in the Parish Hall, on Tuesday afternoon, with a very good attendance. R. K. Peck was in the chair. Mr. Mc Kay

Proved, represented the central board of directors and Mr. Carwell Red Deer, who is head of the livestock department, addressed the meeting. This elevator resumed from the attendance and the discussion to the visitors to be a real farmers elevator.

It had handled 229,000 lb. of grain 8 cars of flour, 22 cars of hops and several cars of posts. In spite of the fact that many of the elevators through Alberta were not in operation at the beginning of the season the elevators of the province had handled nearly four million bushels of grain.

It was the result of the season's experience that the cost of handling the elevator was 1c. per bushel. At this the elevatory would pay over the province a 5 per cent dividend. At this meeting of the "local" Messrs. O. A. Finstad, R. K. Peck, R. S. Law, D. Williams, T. C. Larsen were elected to the board of management. After the meeting had closed the board met and appointed O. A. Finstad, chairman and R. S. Law, secretary.

Messrs. Finstad and Peck are the representatives to the general meeting at Calgary on October 14th.

Defective Fire Insurance

The alarming increase in the number of fires of late, in Western Canada particularly, has made more and more apparent the necessity of every business man being amply protected by adequate insurance against a loss of this nature. This not only means sufficient insurance to fully compensate a merchant for any loss sustained but it is also equally important that this insurance is placed in responsible companies, and that the policies are correctly written.

In response to a recent communication sent out by the wholesalers' association policies have been sent to an expert examination and the startling fact has been disclosed that a large number of these are incorrect in detail, or placed in companies of questionable financial responsibility.
